

1.3.31

a Lesson in the University of The New Covenant

Theodore Cottingham, February 11, 2005. 8:20 a.m. St. John's Episcopal

www.unc.bz

1. I am significancing you, for you will significance many. I will sign your seal, and seal your sign; my son in whom I am well pleased. I give you me, and I give you all of me; awkward, not, but with grace and glory. The lifter of my head, the lifter of my head; you are the lifter of my head; you are lifting my head. You are lifting the head of my body; the head of my body that has been torn down, dragged around, demised, diminished, depleted; but yea, yea, no more. No more in sorrow does my body walk around loathing those who have rule over them; yea, no longer do they walk around thinking they have nothing, and are no one, having no idea the child of the king – them/they/themselves, the child of the king, the children of the most high – yea, spiritually me; me in spirit and in truth, yea, coming in might and power, grace and glory. And you lift my head, you lift their head.

2. I am the lifter of your head. You are the lifter of my head. I am the head of all things, and the glory of the church; the glory of my father; the glory of my son; the glory of my creation. I am I am. I am me, and I come forth in joy, yea, my power, grace, and glory, dominion; and I lack nothing. I lack nothing to do my job. I lack nothing to carry out my father's work. The works are already done. I am me; grace and glory; All Provision provided.

3. I love you and I give you me, and I give you me increasingly as you come into me and persevere; persevere, and penetrate my prophets, my prophecies, yea, impenetrable not are they. Yea, they are there, there, there awaiting, calling unto you; as I call unto you now to spend more time with me and touch me, to touch me, touch me; touch me more, please. Touch me more, please, and let me come into you, come unto you, come up on you, come through you, your words, your action, your flesh, yea, your blood, your presence.

4. I come up on you now. I come up on you. I come up on you in such might, grace, glory, and power, dominion of only me; reconciled, yea, restitution/reinstitution, yea, reincarnation of only me – me; seat of me; seat of me in you; seat of Christ; the Christ; I am Christ, yea, you are Christ in me; my Christ, my glory; the lifter of my head.

5. Yea, think it not strange my words, and those who will wince, and mince, and uncomfortable be, yea, as I reveal me and my seed; my grace and glory in my children; and the lifter of my head, the lifters of my head. Yea, those who will Christ be to each other; serving my body and blood, my body and blood, my body and blood, to my all; to my altogether lovely; to all who come to me, yea, who come to me, and in no wise will I cast them out; but I will receive them in grace and glory, yea, in the kingship that they are.

6. See what I have said. See what I have given. See what I continue to reveal, and think it not strange, those who label this heresy, and you heretical heretic-maker. Yea, all things change in a twinkling of an eye.

7. Watch me mighty-ize my mighty many. Watch me come forth in grace and glory; radiance; radiance'ing the lifters of my head; yea, those who are not afraid of sorrow; those who are not afraid of death; those who are not afraid of lack, poverty, nor dominion, honor, grace, and glory; marble, slate, brass; splendor, grandeur; works of art valued highly.

8. I love you, and I give you me, and I give you grace and glory to walk among my altogether lovely, and take dominion over their heads hung down to lift them; to prop them up, not, and leave them, but yea, to hold their head in your hands and tenderly touch their brow, and give them my bread and my wine: my blood, and infuse them, yea, with the knowledge, the wisdom, and the understanding of who they are, and that they are mine; cold-blooded not; warm-blooded; my blood. They are my blood. They are bought with my blood, created by me; the one by me; bought by me; now in my hands, and in the hands of those who will lift their head, yea, and calm their fevered brow, yea, calming their anxiety, quelling their panic; quantifying not that which they must do, but yea, touching them; me touching them; me in you; you me me you one; us/we; touching them, lifting their head now to receive nourishment from my throne directly, directly; directly where I teach, where I teach, where I teach; where I train; where I supplement not; where I am supplanted not; yea, where I am the main course, I am the entrée, I am the appetizer, I am the dessert. I am all delicacy. I am the meal. I am the table. I am the tree of life; and my fruit comes forth on my table for my now who will eat me, and eat these words; my truths; my truths everlasting; and prophet be; prophets be, yea, coming forth, yea, not in arrogance at all, but yea, in powerful meekness; meekness powerful.

9. I love you, and I give you grace and glory to me; to be me; to lift my head, the head of my saints, the head of my leaders; yea, the head of sinners, those of every label, those of no label, those who hate any label, those who hate labels, those who devise labels, those who labels thrive on.

10. I love my body, and I come; and I bring my bread and wine. I. I. I, Ted; I bring my bread and wine, my flesh and blood; yea, and my table, my table with me which I prepare; which I prepare before every person; every single person ever was, ever is, ever will be; and I place my table before them; and I place me on my table; and yea, I offer covenant, I offer covenant, I offer covenant complete; reversal not; yea, exchange/inter-exchange; yea, A becoming B, and B becoming A; yea, me trading places not, yea, we becoming each other. Watch me.

11. Watch what I have said. Watch what I do as you lift my head; as you lift my heads; the head of the crest-fallen, yea, the downtrodden, those abandoned, those alone; yea, the widow, the foreigner, the hater, the death-rowed; yea, as you lift my forgotten; as you lift the heads of those who cannot lift their head, or lift anyone else's; as you come to my forgotten; as you come to my who can do nothing for you ever, and yet be me. You be me, and you give them my body and my blood, and let no one stop you; no organization, no institution, no government. No one will stop me from lifting the head of my body, yea, my creation; my of every color, every race, every tribe, every tongue; young and old.

12. I give you me. I give you grace and glory to lift my head; the head of my body, yea, in every state, nation, province, country, land, continent; forming and re-forming. I love you, and I give you me, friendships many. Climb on board, yea, into that which sails, which moves, which flies in my wind; my words, my voice, my life. I love you. I bring you me increasingly. Watch me. I seal your significance, and I significance your seal.